

Dear Friend,

City on a Hill is an annual youth leadership conference sponsored by Family First, the Nebraska associate of Focus on the Family. In nine years, City on a Hill has trained over 375 of Nebraska's future Christian leaders to think biblically about ethics, leadership and apologetics.

In 2011, our tuition cost is $350. While we believe this is very reasonable, many of the students that we would like to reach still need some assistance in order to attend the conference.

Would you consider covering a portion of _____'s tuition? Your contribution would help cover this student's cost. In the event that this student is not selected, your money will be refunded.

Even if you're unable to help financially, would you please fill out the form below and send it in the postage-paid envelope that's been included. This way, we will know which students are making an effort to cover the cost of the conference, which will help us make decisions about whom to offer scholarship money.

Thank you for your consideration. If you have any questions, please call me at 1-877-435-3210, or e-mail me at info@familyfirst.org.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Brehm
Director of City on a Hill
